Words for the Spelling and Plain Writing Contest of the University Inter- scholastic League

PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY FOUR TIMES A MONTH, AND ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT THE POSTOFFICE AT AUSTIN,
TEXAS, UNDER THE ACT OF AUGUST 24, 1912

SPELLING AND PLAIN WRITING CONTEST

To contestants: Remember that this is a contest in plain writing as well as in spelling. An undotted 'i' or an uncrossed 't' is a miss and any malformed letter which is unrecognizable if taken apart from its context is a miss. The way to tell whether or not a letter is unrecognizable if taken apart from its context is to lay a piece of paper on either side of the questionable letter in such a way as to cover the other letters in the word, leaving the letter in question visible. If the letter so taken apart from its context can not be recognized for what it is, the judges of your spelling paper will be justified in calling it a miss. It is very important, therefore, to learn to make your characters plainly, so that none may be mistaken for another. You should learn, also, all the pronunciations of a given word, if it has more than one pronunciation, for the person who pronounces the words to you in the contest may choose one or another pronunciation. Do not try to learn too many words in a short time. Begin early in the school year and learn the list gradually and thoroughly. The words are chosen with great care, and you should know every word in the junior and sub-junior list if you are a junior, every word in the junior and senior lists if you are a senior; and every word in the sub-junior list if you are sub-junior in age. This year for the first time a mistake in hyphenization or in capitalization is considered a miss.

To the teacher: Students should be familiarized with their respective lists gradually. All cramming should be avoided as the educational value of the contest is lost if cramming is resorted to. Give written tests at regular intervals beginning as early in the year as possible. Try the old-fashioned spelling down process for oral practice, as that will add zest to the work of mastering the list, arrange spelling relays, etc., as spelling is a subject in which artificial stimulation of interest is justifiable.

(Note.—Words which sound alike but have different meanings should be carefully presented to students. In most instances they are indicated in this list by a short phrase in italics, but in case you find a homonym not so indicated, be careful to call the attention of your students to it.)

For rules governing the contest, see the Constitution and Rules. It is very important that the Director of Spelling secure competent pronouncers at the county contest. Pronouncers should be secured in advance so that they may look up the pronunciation of words concerning which they are uncertain.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS
Bureau of Extension

1. Rural School Service. Lecturers and rural school specialists are available for county school surveys, for lectures on school improvement, and for general assistance in directing and organizing community meetings.

2. The Division of Extension Teaching. Courses equivalent to those offered in residence at the University are taught by mail, by members of the University faculty. Extension classes are offered in those centers in the State where there is a demand for them. Group Study Courses are available for study clubs.

3. The Division of Home Economics. Conferences and clinics are held relative to the health and nutrition of children of pre-school age, as well as for children of school age. Budget making and budgetary spending are taught to groups where such service is desired.

4. Division of Government Research. Information relative to the problems of municipal, county, state, and national government may be had from this division.

5. The Division of Package Loan Library. This division collects material on all important present-day subjects and loans it, free of charge, to schools, women's clubs, libraries, community and civic organizations, and individuals. When demand for them arises, special libraries are often made up on subjects on which libraries are not already prepared.

6. The Photographic Laboratory. This laboratory is prepared to make lantern slides, produce negatives, and do technical photography. The laboratory is also prepared to make motion picture films.

7. The Division of Trades and Industries. Courses in trade analysis, lesson planning, methods of teaching, practical teaching, related subject work, and history of industrial education are given in industrial centers, by members of the division working in co-operation with the State Board for Vocational Education.

8. The Division of Visual Instruction. Lantern slide sets are distributed for educational and recreational purposes. Motion picture films are distributed through the division, and information relative to Extension service has been prepared and will be mailed free upon application.

9. The University Interscholastic League. Educational contests are promoted among the public schools of Texas in public speaking, essay-writing, and spelling. It is the purpose of the League also to assist in organizing, standardizing and controlling athletics. A bulletin for use in the spelling contest is issued, also one briefing the subject for debate and giving selected arguments, one giving sixty prose declamations, and one containing the Constitution and Rules including a thorough description of all the contests undertaken.
